Date set down for public hearing re Formosa

Auckland Council has announced the date of a hearing which will give the public a chance to have their say on Beachland South Ltd's (BSL) Private Plan Change 88 application, which seeks to develop land on and surrounding the existing Rydges Formosa Golf Resort.

The public hearing has been set down for Monday 27-Wednesday 29 November 2023 at Uxbridge Theatre, Howick. At the hearing, those who have lodged submissions supporting or opposing Plan Change 88 are invited to have their say in front of a panel of independent experts.

Private Plan Change 88 asks Auckland Council to rezone the land to enable residential development. In its application, BSL proposes that approx 160 hectares of the land would be developed immediately, while a further approx 150 hectares be rezoned as Future Urban which could be developed with lower density housing in the medium to long term, subject to future consultation and plan changes.

The development proposed under the current plan change application would more than double the size of Beachlands over the next 10-15 years.

At its most recent meeting, the Franklin Local Board documented its views about the application, which it will share with Auckland Council.

Acknowledging the application has some merits such as the potential for a local secondary school, the board also listed its concerns with the application including:

- legacy council deficiencies in the area with no council managed facilities, kerb/channel and footpath gaps, and no secondary school or emergency medical facilities. The board said that Beachlands is predominantly reliant on tank water and has grown in an ad-hoc manner with residential development, a service centre and a retirement village.
- road infrastructure, noting that the application does not adequately address the increased traffic which would be generated along Whitford Maraetai Road, through Whitford Village and on to Whitford Road. The board said "the assumptions used [in the application] are not credible." The board also pointed out that the Coast is often cut off by road closures which can also lead to power outages. The board suggested the proposed plan change should include "significant upgrades"

Guest Editorial by YMCA Camp Adair

Camp Adair proudly relaunched The John Walker 'Find Your Field of Dreams' sports camp in August, after the camp team worked tirelessly to clean up the flood-affected campsite devastated by Cyclone Gabrielle. Seven South Auckland schools of year 7 and 8 students enjoyed the week-long special sports camp, along with one group from Rarotonga, Cook Islands. Despite the chilly start to the week we were graced with some sunshine and plenty of enthusiasm from students and staff.

With the help of our incredible sponsors John Walker Field of Dreams, Potters Masonic Trust, CLMNZ, Four Winds Foundation and Auckland Council Local Boards, these young people got to experience an array of sports games, learn new skills in the great outdoors and make some lifelong memories. Some kids have never been to camp or tried some of the sports on offer so to see them all getting into it was brilliant.

We started the week off by gathering in the recreation hall, which had been cleaned to spec after the cyclone and weather events. The students were welcomed by our sponsors, the Y Camp Adair team and List MP Anahila Kanongata'a also joined from Papakura. We began by grouping the kids, taking an awesome first day photo of each school and away they went.

The week was fantastic from start to finish. What really added value to the activities was the evening performances by the students. Each school group had a night to showcase their talents and their identity, culture and kaupapa. It really highlights how talented the students in South Auckland are - not just in sports, but in performance too.

All the students tried new activities like lacrosse, ki o rahi (a traditional Māori game), and mountain biking which was a first for many, but they were all willing to try each activity. Our team found by the end of the week the camaraderie between students and schools was incredible.

The Apii Nikao students from Rarotonga were a credit to their school and after a week at the camp they are keen to return again in future. Their group won the cultural performance prize. They used traditional large Cook Island drums they brought over, ukulele's and dance, and the combination wowed all the students.

The week concluded with a tug o war competition, and a great prize giving ceremony celebrating all the schools' participation.

We are fortunate our sponsors have so generously contributed to this sports camp and this was just the first group of students. We will deliver 4 sports camps from August until September, welcoming 1300 South Auckland students from 32 schools.

We encourage the community to come down to Camp Adair and see all the activities we have. While the future of the camp lies between flood-proofing the camp or relocating close by, we are committed to ensuring kids all over Auckland and nationwide have the chance at an awesome experience at Camp Adair.

to Whitford Maraetai Road, as well as construction of the long-shelved Whitford Bypass. Intersection upgrades were also suggested for safety reasons, with the board saying it did not believe intersection safety had been adequately addressed in the application.

- public transport, noting that the application did not clearly articulate how new and increased ferry infrastructure and services would be provided
- water, with the board requesting that, if approved, the development connect to the Watercare wastewater treatment plant at Okaroro Drive rather than developing its own treatment plant. The board said that if approved, the plan change might offer enough scale for Watercare to complete a centralised water and wastewater scheme to benefit the wider Beachlands area. Concern about the new development relying on bore water was also noted, with further investigation recommended. The board said that providing drinking water for the additional 10-15,000 people living at the new development should require Watercare to "lead and provide the service".

- ecology, with the board saying the effects of the development upon Waikopua Estuary and nearby native bush blocks had not been fully addressed by the application.
- visual impact of the proposed development which would be seen from a considerable distance, including the Hauraki Gulf. The board suggested that setting the development further back from the coastal edge should be considered.

- other infrastructure, such as considering how a more reliable power supply could be provided if the development goes ahead
- the development's economic benefit was scrutinised by the board, who queried whether the light industrial aspect of the application would provide enough local jobs for the increased population.

The board appointed chair Angela Fulljames to present the board's views at the November Plan Change 88 hearing.

Te Puru Farewells Centre Manager

The Trust would like to farewell their long-standing Centre Manager - Adele Jarraud.

Over the past six years the centre has achieved many important milestones under Adele's direction.

Te Puru has been through many changes and challenges during this time, especially with the Covid-19 pandemic and the decrease in funding. However, with the extensive support of the local community and the strong Te Puru Operational Team, the centre is now tracking well - gymnastics numbers have significantly increased, a new administration block was built, the centre is open seven days a week and space has been allocated to local businesses.

Adele has also further developed Te Puru's relationships with important stakeholders including the Franklin Local Board and Auckland Council. The Trust are appreciative of what has been achieved in this time frame and we wish her well in her next venture.

Kindy bounces back following near-closure three years ago

Three years ago the future of Kawakawa Bay Kindergarten was uncertain, with the Counties Manukau Kindergarten Association (CMKA) wanting to close the kindergarten or turn it into a community playgroup.

Thanks to the efforts of some invested parents, the kindergarten was saved - and now it is a thriving success story.

“We are completely full with a growing waiting list,” says head teacher Lisa Carlin.

Lisa says the turnaround has come from a number of younger families moving into the area, and with the majority of parents returning to work.

A new housing subdivision, currently under construction, will add further demand to the kindergarten, at which point Lisa says they may have to change the kindergarten’s age group acceptance criteria from two-year-olds to three-year-olds.

“The future is now secure. We feel confident that we will continue to stay at full capacity and there will be no concerns from CMKA.”

Over the last couple of years, the kindergarten has expanded its grounds to include a grassed running/play area, vegetable gardens and Wharenui. Parents have fundraised to build a new outdoor kai/food area that overlooks a stream, as well as some new swings.

Twenty children attend the kindergarten each day, and Lisa says there are always lots of great learning opportunities as children engage in the play-based programme. The four-year-olds enjoy regular nature walks to the nearby beach, and on the day the PC Times visited, the children were keeping a close eye on an egg incubator where a clutch of eggs was due to hatch. Later that day, a ‘Keep Me Safe’ programme was scheduled to teach children about stranger danger.

The kindergarten still operates as a kindergarten, finishing at 3.30pm each day. Lisa says they surveyed the community to see whether there was a demand for extended hours to 5 pm but the overwhelming response from the community was to see the kindy retain its 3.30pm closing time.

Newly-appointed Counties Manukau Kindergarten Association CEO Adam Berry says the vision for the centre is simple. “We are working hard to improve what we do each day, and aspire to create new knowledge in our community, to the betterment of current and future generations.”

Lisa and her team are delighted to see things going so well. “Three years ago we would never have thought we’d be here today. Now we’re full and we’re all very happy.”

Local netballer's dreams come true with Silver Fern selection

Nineteen-year-old Amelia Walmsley was named as part of the 2023/2024 Silver Ferns netball squad last week.

The Beachlands resident says she was "very surprised" by the announcement. "It is something I have always dreamed of but I didn't expect it to happen so soon," she says. "I am so grateful and super excited to get involved."

Amelia's progress through the netball ranks has been steady ever since she first stepped onto the Te Puru netball courts as a five-year-old.

The 1.92m goal shoot has spent the past two seasons playing for Wellington's Te Wananga o Raukawa Pulse in the ANZ Premiership netball league where her consistency caught the eye of selectors.

Amelia is one of three new names to be added to the Silver Ferns squad, following the team's disappointing World Cup campaign.

She says a big part of her success at such a young age is due to the foundation she received during her grass roots netball days.

"I remember even when I was involved in the Pōhutukawa Coast Fun Ferns, my coach Melissa helped me learn the rules about the game and she was the first person to introduce me properly to netball. I feel like she was especially a huge part of helping me find my passion in netball."

As soon as she was old enough to meet the requirements to play competitive netball, Amelia progressed to the Pōhutukawa Coast Netball Club. Since then, she hasn't looked back - playing goal shoot for school, club and representative netball throughout her time at Howick College, then two years playing for the Pulse.

"My club always gave me opportunities to further expose myself and grow my game. I was coached by many people, and I can happily say I learnt a lot from all of them, and if I didn't learn anything, they taught me something about myself."

Amelia describes her grandparents and parents as role models. Her father Kerry played cricket at national level, and Amelia says his knowledge, plus support from both her parents, has inspired her to work hard and aim high. "My Nana and Poppa were on the sideline of every single netball game. My Poppa would give me this look and I just knew that it would be time to knuckle down and I would, because I looked up to him and he gave me the extra nudge to stay in the game and keep working hard."

Amelia credits her sporting success to a combination of genetic good luck and hard work.

"I am lucky to have two beautiful tall parents, so genetics have most definitely helped me in that department. I have always loved this sport so much and am always so determined to put in the hard work and learn, however my parents and grandparents have most definitely helped me so much."

Amelia Walmsley (centre) has been announced as one of three new players to join the Silver Ferns squad next season. Photo / Michael Bradley Photography

A self-described family girl, Amelia has some advice for aspiring young netballers.

"Every position holds pressure as each position has a different job. I definitely find goal shoot carries a lot of pressure and on court you just have to do your job, relax, and play your own game. That pressure is always going to be there, but I find playing netball fun and I really enjoy it so I try to not focus on the pressure, and just to take deep breaths, and play my game, because at the end of the day I will try my absolute best."

Amelia says she feels honoured to be selected for the Silver Ferns.

"It is now up to me to work really hard and put my best foot forward. I am really looking forward to the challenge."

FIVE REASONS TO GROW A GARDEN

Spring is around the corner, and that's a great time to start (or improve) your garden. Whether you have a spacious backyard or a tiny balcony, here are five compelling reasons why you should consider cultivating your own garden.

1. Connection with nature: Gardening provides a vital opportunity to reconnect with nature. Getting your hands in the soil, nurturing plants, and observing their growth cycles can be incredibly grounding. Feeling the earth and hearing the rustle of leaves can reduce stress and anxiety, fostering a sense of tranquility and mindfulness.

2. Fresh and healthy produce, beautiful flowers: Growing your own fruits, vegetables, and herbs means access to the freshest, most nutritious produce possible. Children often love to eat things they've helped to grow, reducing fussiness, and giving them lifelong skills. Imagine the gorgeous blooms of flowers that you've cultivated.

3. Therapeutic benefits: Gardening has been recognized for its effects on mental and emotional wellbeing. The rhythmic and repetitive tasks of planting, weeding and watering, can have a soothing effect. Studies have shown that gardening can lower cortisol levels, alleviate symptoms of depression, and enhance overall mood. Not to mention the joy of cooking food you've grown, or taking a bouquet of flowers you've raised to a friend, neighbour or teacher.

4. Learning and skill development: From understanding soil composition to mastering the art of pruning, you'll acquire valuable skills and knowledge. Your 'green fingers' will grow, with time, patience and persistence. Gardening encourages problem-solving and adaptability, as you navigate challenges like pest control and weather conditions.

5. Community and sharing: Gardens often bring people together. Whether it's sharing surplus produce or exchanging seeds or cuttings with neighbours, participating in local gardening clubs, or teaching children about the wonders of nature, gardens foster a sense of community. Exchanging gardening tips and experiences can create lasting bonds and enrich your social life.

Growing a garden isn't just about having a collection of plants; it's about cultivating a deeper connection with the natural world, reaping the rewards of your labour, finding peace and healing, gaining new skills, and building relationships. So, roll up your sleeves, grab a trowel, and get gardening!

Beachlands School students head to AIMS Games

Year 8 student Devin Marshall and principal Anthony Noble-Campbell get in some valuable tennis training sessions before Devon's participation at the AIMS Games.

After COVID-19 cancelled the AIMS Games in 2020 and 2021, Beachlands School students are happy to have the disruptions behind them as their team of students prepares for the 2023 Zespri AIMS Games from 3-8 September.

Held annually in Tauranga in September, in 2023 the Zespri AIMS Games will welcome 11,500 competitors from 370 schools covering 25 sports. The games provides 11, 12 and 13-year-olds an opportunity to compete as individuals or in teams against others their age both from within New Zealand and from invited countries.

The Beachlands School AIMS Games team is represented by students in boys, girls and a mixed cross country team, a mixed rippa rugby competition, mountain biking, BMX riding and boys' tennis.

Beachlands School principal Anthony Noble-Campbell says he acknowledges and thanks the many parents who help train the teams, promote the fundraising events and take time away from their work and families to be with the school teams as they compete at the AIMS Games.

This timeless 1970s residence, centrally located in the heart of Beachlands, is a rare find.

This beautifully renovated 3-bedroom home sits on a spacious quarter-acre section, providing ample room for both children and pets to frolic.

The lower level of the home has been designed with practicality in mind. A rumpus room offers versatility - whether you envision it as a fourth bedroom, home office or cozy den- the choice is yours

Don't miss out on the chance to own a slice of Beachlands paradise, while enjoying modern living at its finest.

Livestock killed in dog attacks

Brookby and Whitford residents are being urged to keep a lookout for loose dogs after night-time attacks on sheep.

On Sunday 13 August, six sheep which were due to lamb were mauled to death in an attack on Sandstone Road. Six lambs were also badly injured.

Property owner Mohammed Khan says his neighbour lost a pregnant pig and sheep in a similar attack two weeks prior. The neighbour saw a large black dog on his farm earlier that day.

Last weekend, 10 sheep were killed over 2 nights by dogs at Papatoetoe Pony Club in Brookby.

If you own dogs, ensure they are securely contained at night to prevent them wandering. If you see anything suspicious, contact Auckland Council Animal Control on 0800 462 685 (for urgent complaints) or 09 301 0101.

Coastal Cat Rescue 'Cat of the Month'

Unwanted four-month-old siblings Tammy and Timmy were chased by overwhelmed homeowners with the intention of setting the kittens "free". Luckily a rescue stepped in to help. They trapped and desexed the adults and removed Tammy and Timmy from the house to give the kittens a chance at a better life. Unfortunately, the rescue had no room to take in the siblings and asked Coastal Cat Rescue to help.

Tammy loves to play with her chase toys. She is very pretty and full of mischief and cheek. Timmy loves to be loved. He adores attention, is happy to join in with playtime but is equally content to flop down and enjoy human attention. Tammy and Timmy would love to find a home that could adopt and enjoy them both. They are also available for adoption individually to families willing to give them the attention needed for them to continue to grow in confidence.

Tammy and Timmy are desexed, microchipped (will be registered to new owner), have received their first vaccination, are vet checked, treated for fleas and worms and come with six weeks pet insurance (subject to Terms and Conditions). An adoption donation will apply.

If you would like to know more about Tammy and Timmy please email bailifscourt@gmail.com, join Coastal Cat Rescue on Facebook and PM or text and leave a message on 028 420 0124 (this phone is not manned and messages will be cleared only as time allows).
