Hūnua School celebrates 150 years

After 18 months of planning, Hūnua School marked its 150th anniversary on 27 and 28 March. The occasion provided an opportunity for students, staff, families and former pupils to reconnect and share memories.

The celebrations opened with a mihi whakatau at the school entrance, followed by student kapa haka, choir and ukelele performances. Guided school tours, followed later in the day by opportunities to gather socially at a local vineyard, saw generations of past students share poems, personal stories and memories from their time at the school.

Principal Mark Drummond says the weekend was a reflection of the effort and pride shown by the community.

“A sincere thank you to our entire Hūnua School community for the effort, time, and commitment shown leading into our 150th Jubilee and across the weekend,” he said. “It was outstanding to see our students perform with such confidence and quality. The kapa haka, choir, and ukulele groups represented our school with real pride.

“One of the most rewarding parts of the weekend was seeing past students and families return to Hūnua School,” says Mark. “There was a real sense of connection as people re-engaged with the school, shared stories, and reflected on their time here.”

Saturday’s traditional country fair added to the sense of celebration, with giant pumpkin competitions, raffles, market stalls and activities for children.

Many attendees commented on the positive tone of the speeches and the welcoming feel across the weekend.

“It was great to connect with people I had heard so much about but never met. The weekend showed the strength of our community and the pride people have in Hūnua School,” said Mark.

Editorial by Franklin Local Board Wairoa representatives

Want the best for Franklin?

Nominations for candidates to stand in the Franklin Local Board Wairoa subdivision by-election have now closed. Thank you to those who have put themselves forward to represent our community. We expect to see their faces around the community soon to win over your votes.

Voting opens 11 May 2026 and closes midday 10 June 2026. If you are enrolled to vote, keep an eye out for voting papers which are being delivered by mail. Everything there is to know about voting in Franklin's by-election can be found at: voteauckland.co.nz

Will you be part of Franklin's 2027-2030 vision?

The decisions made this year will shape Franklin's parks, community spaces, libraries, paths and much more for the next three years – and you can influence them.

In June 2026, the Franklin Local Board will be seeking your feedback for its three-year plan (2027-2030) to prioritise local investment and matters that they can raise with Auckland Council or central government on your behalf.

Keep an eye on akhaveyoursay.aucklandcouncil.govt.nz to share your input when the draft plan opens for feedback.

From your rubbish, footpaths, public transport, libraries, stormwater management, beaches, playgrounds, open spaces, restoration and protection of the natural environment and so much more is facilitated or serviced by us. Tell us how we can improve things for your area and what matters most to you and your family.

Your feedback helps us decide where funding should be prioritised.

We've already heard from some of Franklin's community which has influenced a starting point for the draft plan, but we're certain there are plenty more suggestions out there.

To inform the plan, early bird consultation has received feedback from local organisations, including Waiuku Business & Development Association, Pukekohe Business Association, Ngāti Tamaoho, Waikato Tainui and Pōhutukawa Youth Council engaged through local and online events.

In the next couple of months it will be your turn to fine tune the plan, so the local board can get it right for this community.

Some key challenges and opportunities the board is considering for the plan includes:

- how can the board bolster a sense of connection and safety in changing communities - how to bring new and existing residents together and foster a shared local identity and aspirations
- what are ways to activate local business and recreation without affecting our natural environment
- what workarounds could tackle ongoing funding constraints whilst also investing in new and improved facilities and services.

Have a think and let us know when the time comes.

Stay in the loop by connecting with us on facebook.com/FranklinLocalBoard or email: franklinlocalboard@aucklandcouncil.govt.nz

Whitford crash leaves one person injured

The eastbound lane of Whitford Road was blocked following a single vehicle crash last Thursday.

Emergency services were called to Whitford at 7.20am following the crash.

Staff reported that CCTV footage showed a car crossing the Whitford roundabout before leaving the road and plunging down towards the Turanga estuary.

The driver is believed to have suffered a medical event before the crash, and was taken to hospital in a serious condition.

Chance to embrace AI with free event

If you would like to know what AI means for you and your family, get along to an event hosted by the local u3a group next week.

Auckland AI pioneer Matt Ensor will give a free presentation, spiked with humour, and live demonstrations.

Details: Wednesday 15 April 10:30am–11:30am, Beachlands Chartered Club, Wakelin Road. Free entry.

Little Ravers raise the roof at sold-out Emma Memma gig

Beachlands mum Charlotte Barton-Jones and her business partner, Claudia Hegley, never imagined their leap into children's DJing would see them performing on the same bill as one of the most recognisable names in children's entertainment. The pair are still riding the high after their children's DJ business, Little Ravers NZ, landed the dream opportunity to warm up the crowd ahead Emma Watkins' (famous for her role as one of the Wiggles) sold-out Emma Memma concert last weekend.

Watkin's team contacted Claudia and Charlotte via Instagram, inviting them to jump on a video call to discuss a potential event.

"Our first reaction was, 'Is this a scam?'" says Charlotte. After double-checking, excitement set in when they realised the video call would be with Watkins herself and her team member Jack Mainsbridge.

Watkins was keen to surround herself at the Eden Park event with Kiwi entertainers. Claudia and Charlotte found themselves on the billing, alongside names like Suzy Cato, Loopy Tunes, Claudia Robin Gunn, Music with Michal and Ben Boyce. Backstage, they say the atmosphere was "warm and supportive", with established performers providing plenty of encouragement.

"It was a dream come true," the pair say. Charlotte says Little Ravers NZ was born from a simple idea. Both women had DJ experience before becoming parents, with Claudia continuing to play functions and events around Auckland. The turning point came when Charlotte ran a disco for her child's primary school. The response was so positive that the pair began wondering whether the same concept might work for children's birthday parties. A trial run at Claudia's daughter's birthday proved the concept, and the business quickly followed.

Today, Little Ravers NZ offers DJ party packages for birthdays, school discos, community events and end-of-year celebrations. Their focus goes beyond music, creating inclusive, high-energy spaces where children are encouraged to move, play and connect.

DJing for kids is very different from playing to adults, Charlotte says. While children are often eager to dance, they sometimes need a little extra encouragement to get started. Rather than standing behind the decks, Claudia and Charlotte are on the floor, leading games, running activities and reading the room to draw children back into the action, making everyone feel included.

Balancing business and motherhood is a constant juggle, they admit, but strong family support makes it possible. Their own children occasionally help out at public events, handing out spot prizes or holding the limbo stick.

"For now, the kids think it's pretty special that their mums run discos," says Charlotte.

Clevedon Art Trail's 10th year a success

The sun welcomed visitors to this year's Clevedon Art Trail. Organiser Helen Morrison says people took part in hands-on workshops including painting, drawing, ceramics, and felt-making, while others tried their hand at traditional hand-crank sewing machines. There were live demonstrations, from painting and jewellery-making to knife making, and many visitors enjoyed discovering new artists and exploring their unique work.

Female registrations increase at BMAFC

Young players from Beachlands Maraetai Association Football Club (BMAFC) took part in the SupportHer Football Festival, held at Keith Hay Park on Saturday 28 March. The event, hosted by Auckland FC and 2degrees, aimed to encourage more girls to get involved in football and build confidence through fun, inclusive experiences.

BMAFC's Under 10 girls, playing as the 'Blue Flames', represented the local club, joined by a handful of potential players from the Pōhutukawa Coast who organisers hope will now become part of the team. The players, aged 9–10, played together last season and used the festival as a chance to reconnect.

The team played three matches in hot conditions, finishing the day with one win, one draw and one loss. A highlight for the Coast players was the chance to meet New Zealand footballer Annalie Longo, who attended the festival to support and inspire young players.

Blue Flames team manager Rochelle Gill says the club would like to recognise the families who support its young players. "Without them we wouldn't have the fun community environment that we do. Our parents are so proud of their players – we all are."

BMAFC president Mark McClintock says: "This was an important development opportunity for the girls and aligns closely with the club's focus on growing participation and pathways for girls and women at BMAFC. Just as importantly, it's about making sure the girls are enjoying their football, because fun and supportive experiences are vital to the continued growth of the female game at the club."

The festival also reflected growing interest in girls' football locally. Club registrations are now open, and there has already been an increase in girls signing up for the coming season.

Silver surfers harness artificial intelligence skills for everyday life

We are being told all the time that AI can transform the way we live, and now a group of senior Pōhutukawa Coasters is exploring how they can use it in their everyday lives.

The new sub-group of u3a (an organisation which brings people together to explore wide-ranging interests) is learning to embrace emerging technology in practical, everyday ways.

Formed in November, the 'AI for Everyday Life' group officially held its inaugural meeting on 18 February, after several members expressed interest in understanding how artificial intelligence could be used beyond the hype.

"We're excited to see the formation of this special interest group," says U3A President Mike Groves.

"This brings to 21 the total number of groups in the club. These are a hallmark of u3a, bringing opportunities for learning, laughter, and social interaction to local people who are either retired or no longer working full time. Focusing on the practical use of artificial intelligence, this group demonstrates our club's aim to stay relevant and valuable to our members."

Convenor Peter Webster says the group has been designed to be welcoming and accessible, with no prior technical knowledge required. Members learn collaboratively, sharing ideas and discoveries as they explore how AI tools can assist with tasks such as planning holidays, reviewing books, preparing questions for GP visits, modifying photos, and creating images.

The local u3a club now has 21 sub-groups which explore a wide range of interests and hobbies. Photo supplied.

Rather than focusing on complex theory, the group centres on practical applications that members can immediately use at home.

Other topics explored by the club's u3a sub-groups cover a wide range of topics, from arts and history to science and walking groups.

The AI group's monthly meetings are held at Beachlands Chartered Club. Peter says the club has been ideal for the group's needs with new audio-visual facilities which make demonstrations easier.

New members are always welcomed - to enquire about joining u3a Beachlands Maraetai, contact u3abm@outlook.com.

FOOD AND ENTERTAINMENT

Biscoff Caramel Slice recipe

Indulgent, rich, and irresistibly gooey, this Biscoff caramel slice is the ultimate sweet treat.

Ingredients:

Base:

- 350g Biscoff biscuits
- 150g butter

Caramel:

- 125g butter
- ½ brown sugar
- 1tsp vanilla extract
- 1 can condensed milk

Topping:

- 250g chocolate (milk, dark or a combination)
- Biscoff biscuits

Method:

1. Crush Biscoff biscuits or use a food processor to do this. Crush until mostly fine crumbs (some bigger chunks are ok).
2. Melt butter and mix into the crushed biscuits. Mix until fully combined and press into a lined 28x18cm tray. Refrigerate for at least 30min.
3. Pre-heat oven to 160°C fan bake.
4. For the caramel, melt butter and brown sugar and whisk to combine. Once combined leave alone until it comes to a simmer.
5. Once the bubbles have appeared add the can of condensed milk and whisk constantly for 5 minutes until big bubbles start appearing. Continue whisking for 1 minute, then pour onto the prepared base, spreading it over evenly.

6. Bake in the oven for 12 minutes.
7. Remove from oven and let cool on the counter before placing in the fridge. You can leave in the fridge overnight, but if you can't wait that long 2-3 hours is ok.
8. Remove from fridge. Over a double boiler melt the chocolate, then pour over the slice and spread evenly. While the chocolate is still melted place Biscoff biscuits on top in any pattern you wish. Place back into the fridge for 15 minutes to set the chocolate.
9. Remove from fridge and cut the slice after the 15 minutes so the chocolate doesn't get too hard to cut and crack.
10. Store in airtight container in the pantry or fridge.
11. Enjoy!

BARFOOT THOMPSON & Student Voice

LOCAL STUDENTS' NEWS, VIEWS & LITERARY TALENT

This column features news, views and literary talents of students from Beachlands, Maraetai, Clevedon, Brookby, Hunua, Paparimu, Orere and Ardmore Schools.

One student featured each week will be presented with a certificate and a $20 book voucher, thanks to Barfoot & Thompson's Beachlands and Whitford branches.

Showtime!

As I arrived at Hawkins Theatre everyone immediately went to the foyer as we had practised on Wednesday. It was production day. There were no more practices and we went right into it. It was really exciting. Nerves jangling about how the two shows could go.

The juniors were tired but were amazing in their cow and chicken costumes, flower costumes and more. They definitely danced around great energy!

Last production we did 'Not a Box' which was a big search to find the best Christmas present. In the end it was of course not a box as the name suggests. As boxes can be anything if you use your imagination. This production was about 'Not a Stick'. This time it was about Cormac looking for his Not a Stick. He looks through Brookby School Ag Day, our bug hotels and stick horses and a few others.

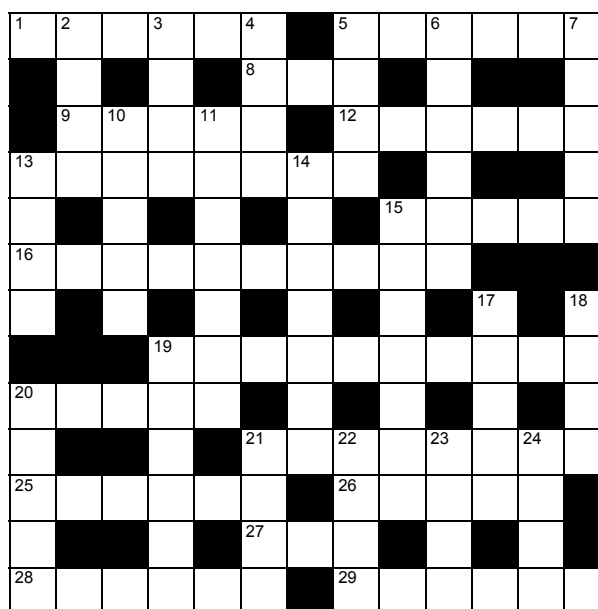

In the end Cormac finds his Not a Stick on the Brookby School Sesquicentennial flag! Sesquicentennial means 150 years so Cormac was very happy to find his Not a Stick on the 150 year flag!

My part for the production was the grandparents scene. Cormac was looking for sticks and well, walking sticks are counted as a Not a Stick! We weren't just grandparents though, we were gangsta grandparents! Me and my friends went to the front during our dance and rapped!

There were bugs and flowers on the ground. Line dancing scenes on the dance floor. Satisfied teachers with the performance and in the end, everything was great!

- by Lucas Cadwallader, age 11, Brookby School.
