Watt a change! Beachlands to bury overhead cables

Unightly overhead power lines on Wakelin Road will soon be removed as part of an undergrounding project.

Fifteen kilometres of overhead power lines in Beachlands will be removed over the next two years, as part of a multi-million dollar project announced by Vector and its majority shareholder, Entrust, this week.

The Beachlands Undergrounding Project will start this month, and over the next two years will see overhead electricity lines in 16 streets replaced with underground cabling.

Franklin Local Board member Malcolm Bell says the project announcement is fantastic news for Beachlands.

"I have been talking to a Vector representative since 2014 when the overhead lines and street lights were upgraded at Sunkist Bay. This is far bigger and will mean a huge amount to many residents of old Beachlands who will no longer be looking at unsightly poles and wires."

Vector says the area was chosen for undergrounding based on a number of factors, including the age, condition, and performance history of the existing electricity lines and equipment in the area, the number of customers who will benefit, and the opportunity to link in with fibre deployment and other infrastructure projects.

Vector says a project representative in the area will be available to meet with residents and answer any questions while the work is being carried out.

Editorial by the Clevedon Community and Business Association

Our recent Annual General Meeting was a wonderful opportunity to provide our members and supporters with an update on the projects we’ve delivered this year supporting our vision to ‘create a connected community with heart, character and spirit in which lives are enriched and businesses thrive’.

While community engagement and advocacy on growth and development in the area has been a big area of focus for us lately, preparing our annual report ahead of our AGM showed that’s just a small part of what we’ve worked on throughout the year. This work is often done at kitchen tables late at night by our committee (on a largely volunteer basis) so it’s heartening to see the progress we’ve made with the help of our members, supporters, and the Franklin Local Board.

Here’s just a few of the highlights from our annual report:

Supporting and promoting local businesses

- Showcasing local businesses through Roundup newsletter profiles, social media, and Shop Clevedon promotions. Our growing social media following means these profiles are now reaching a larger audience.
- Engaging with local businesses (and the community) to ensure their voice is heard in planning conversations (eg. pedestrian crossing placement in the village).

Delivering community events

- The 2023 Christmas Parade was another wonderful community event with approximately 25 floats, face painters, a sausage sizzle, and a lot of candy floss!
- We established the Wairoa Valley Business Breakfast series enabling local businesses and community members to come together to ‘be informed, prepared and connected’ on relevant issues and opportunities. Thank you to our sponsor, Forsyth Barr, for helping make these events possible.

Promoting ‘Destination Clevedon’

- Our work to leverage the huge potential the Hūnua Traverse offers our community and businesses paid off with this unique trail being included in the Tour Aotearoa in February – showcasing our region, and local businesses, to new visitors to the area.
- Supporting the Clevedon Art Trail, a great asset to our community. Congratulations to Helen Morrison for another successful event this year.

Advocating for good design outcomes in our growing community

- Seeing the Clevedon Village Design Framework, and the first stage of the Clevedon Village Gateway Corridor (an area of planting along Papakura Clevedon Road at the south end of the village) incorporated into development around the village.

Development of Clevedon brand

- Development of distinctive Clevedon branding to create a strong identity – a valuable asset to our community and local businesses.
- Installation of distinctive new ‘Clevedon’ signs at key village entry points.

We’re grateful to have been granted $52k per annum over three years through Franklin Local Board (FLB) partnership funding to continue, and expand on, the work we’re doing. Some of the areas we’ll be able to offer additional support to through the FLB funding are the Clevedon Art Trail, our ANZAC Day commemorations and the NZ Polo Open. The funding will also help us work on enhancements to our main street, production of our Love Clevedon Guide and Map, development of the Hūnua Traverse trails map, and further development and promotion of our Clevedon brand.

Securing FLB funding is a significant boost to these projects. However, like all community groups, we rely heavily on membership fee income to cover operational costs so membership growth will also be a big focus for us over the coming year.

We look forward to keeping you updated on the work we’re doing.

Camp Adair reveals plan to crack down on crack willow

YMCA Camp Adair is on a mission - to save itself, and to protect the community from further flood events.

YMCA North Group Manager Dave Lockwood says that in the aftermath of cyclone Gabrielle, crack willow’s role in exacerbating flooding was highlighted.

“Our latest project came about because cyclone Gabrielle just smashed through here obviously, and did about $1.5 million worth of damage. Science tells us that the crack willows that are in the river actually exacerbate further flooding, because they kind of build up the bottom of the river, and you also get sediment banks that come in behind them. They can actually change water courses as well, and during flooding you get severe damage and scouring and erosion. They’re actually a noxious species to New Zealand.

“We want the river to flow better. We want it to deepen. Our idea, after discussion with a lot of locals around here, is that we need to put some action around it. So our plan is to try and remove all the willows in the upper Wairoa.”

The work planned by the camp will complement work being done elsewhere by Friends of Te Wairoa, who are removing crack willow further downstream, and the Hūnua Ararimu and Paparimu Valleys Residents Association.

Poisoning crack willows has been made easier recently with the invention of an ‘injector gun’ which safely delivers glyphosate poison into the core of the tree via drill holes.

The scale of the issue is huge, with crack willow infesting much of the Wairoa river above Hūnua Falls, and the Maungawheau Stream, a large tributary of the Wairoa. Total elimination of the pest plant will require many hours of labour. But Dave believes the job needs to be done, ever mindful of the precarious position of Camp Adair which is perched along the banks of the river and is currently uninsurable thanks to 3 flood events within the past 11 years.

Dave says that clearing the willows from upstream will also prevent the further spread of willows downstream in Clevedon.

“You’ve got to start up here, because crack willow can actually break off and re-root. It is so freaking invasive, and it will re-establish further down the river.”

The crack willow elimination project has so far received financial support with funding from the government through the North Island Weather Events Response and Recovery Fund, the Ministry of Social Development, the Hūnua Quarry Ecological Society and Counties Energy.

The upper reaches of the Wairoa River are infested with crack willow, something Camp Adair plans to change.

“And we’ll find other sources,” says Dave.

Camp Adair also plans to establish an eco-source nursery to grow native plants to replace the removed willows, involving local children in the process.

“We’ll get the kids that come to camp to collect native seeds, and they’ll assist in growing them so that we can then offer or sell them to the community to replace all the willows that are gone. So it’s a nice little educational programme,” says Dave.

Anyone wishing to get involved or support the camp can contact dave.lockwood@ymcanorth.org.nz.

I’m writing about the absurdity of the arrow signs on the Shelley Bay/ Beachlands Road roundabout, telling us we must turn left.

Not only that, the arrows have to be on a board about 3ft long and placed in such a position they block the view of the indicators of the opposing traffic.

What can you - and can't you - put in your kerbside recycling bin?

Think again before you throw that oat milk carton into your recycling bin!

Earlier this year recycling rules changed, aimed at standardising recycling around the country. About 16 per cent of materials put into household recycling bins cannot be recycled, which contaminates a bin and makes it unrecyclable.

Now, only plastics 1, 2 and 5 can be put into your recycling bin. Only containers/cartons that have a 1, 2 or a 5 printed within the recycling symbol on the packaging can go into your kerbside bin.

So what exactly can you put into your recycling bin?

Glass bottles and jars
Paper and cardboard
Aluminium and steel tins and cans
Plastics printed with a recycling symbol containing a number 1 (Polyethylene terephthalate (PET) containers). These include:

- Fruit and vege punnets
- Soft drink and water bottles (lids removed)
- Harder plastic containers that hold spreads like peanut butter and mayonnaise (lids removed)

Plastics printed with a recycling symbol containing a number 2 (High-density polyethylene (HDPE) containers). These include:

- Milk bottles (lids removed)
- Juice bottles (lids removed)

- Shampoo bottles (lids removed)
 - Cleaning bottles (lids removed)
- Plastics printed with a recycling symbol containing a number 5 (Polypropylene (PP)). These include:
- Some takeaway containers
 - Plastic cutlery
 - 2l ice cream containers
 - Large yoghurt containers
- What can't go in your recycling bin?
- Aerosol cans will not be recycled; dispose through your local Transfer Station, metal recycler or in your council roadside rubbish collection
 - Liquid paperboard (like Tetra Pak), milk and juice cartons will not be recycled; dispose through your local Community Recycling Centre, Transfer Station or in your council roadside rubbish collection
 - Anything less than 50mm x 50mm cannot be recycled. This means all lids must be removed and are to be disposed of through the council roadside rubbish collection
 - Plastic bags. Plastic bags and soft plastics can be put in special recycling bins at participating stores. Otherwise put them in your rubbish bin.
 - Plastics which have numbers 3, 4, 6 and 7 printed on the packaging. These can include:
 - Clear trays for holding food or takeaways

- Some large containers with sturdy handles
- Plastic containers used for storing or packaging things like batteries or electronics
- Some meat trays and takeaway containers
- Single use plastic bags
- Bubble wrap
- Plastic wrap
- 6pk yoghurt pottles
- Some meat trays
- Foam cups
- Protective packaging
- Baby bottles and sippy cups
- CDs
- Plastic toys
- Packaging for some food and electronics

Have you received your $350 power dividend this year?

- article supplied by Dr Paul Hutchison, former MP for Hunua, Entrust trustee and director of Vector

All readers with a power connection to their house or business will have just received a $350 dividend from Entrust.

Effectively, each Auckland power consumer (within the Entrust district) is a shareholder or ‘beneficiary of’ Entrust’s 75.1 per cent shareholding in Vector. Vector is New Zealand’s largest lines company.

It is important to understand that Vector’s pricing for distributing power (which is the smaller part of your energy bill) has stayed much the same for 15 years when adjusted for inflation. This is in contrast to the big generator retailers, which sell you the energy component and have increased prices significantly over the years.

Vector has grown to be one of Aotearoa New Zealand’s (if not the world’s) most innovative power companies. Kiwis should be immensely proud of it!

Vector has developed a range of innovative solutions to support smarter energy use in your homes and businesses using digital technology.

It has formed business partnerships with Amazon and Google X. Its smart technology is so good that Queensland Investment Company last year paid $1.7 billion for a 50% interest in the spun-off metering company.

Vector’s portfolio of businesses spans energy technology and energy efficiency solutions which put customers at the heart of decision making.

In your local community Vector has been investing in ensuring your power supply is secure with projects such as the Kawakawa Bay solar/battery amenity, and in October will announce a very significant programme in your area!

The five trustees of Entrust are up for election every three years and you have the opportunity to vote by postal ballot by Monday 21 October.

The trustees’ mandate is to prudentially manage your 75.1% holding of Vector and to ensure Vector provides a reliable, secure and affordable power supply.

This year the Community and Residents team of five has very strong financial and governance credentials. I invite you to read their website at www.c-r.org.nz.

There is an absolute commitment to invest in low carbon energy, e-transport (buses and ferries), solar and battery solutions, under grounding power lines and reducing emissions as we move towards 2030. The team is also committed to increase and protect your yearly dividend.

If you are eligible but haven’t received your payment of $350, call Entrust on Freephone 0800436878

I Should Have Seen It Coming

“I should’ve seen this coming!” I screamed while running to get out of the water in fear and anxiousness.

* A few hours before *

“Yay I’m so excited” I squealed in joy, while packing my boogie board in the car. As we headed our way to the lake I played eye spy with my little brother Max. When we finally arrived I had this sense of fear rushing down my spine, because we actually hadn’t been to this lake before. I looked at the lake, then I just shook my head and tried to forget about it. I whispered to myself in a discreet voice “It’s all in your head, stop being delusional, nothing will happen.”

After we headed down to the lake we sat down on the shore. I took a quick glance at the lake. “Mmm” I said to myself, “what was I even on about? Pathetic?” I rolled my eyes to myself. As my mother finished rubbing sunscreen aggressively on me I grabbed my boogie board and stepped into the bitter and raw lake.

After I had finished testing out the water temperature I climbed onto a towering rock and glanced at the lake. I looked back to wave at my mother, as she smiled and kept recording. I took a deep breath and repositioned my goggles onto my face. I took one last deep breath and with a roaring “ 1, 2 , 3. Ahhhh” screamed while jumping down from the rock.

It felt as if I was flying through zero gravity. Mid air I looked down planning how I was going to land, only to see my worst nightmare. Eight starving crocodiles rushed into the lake making an enormous splash as they headed towards me.

out with a mechanical failure, fire or electrical failure.

Check the weather forecast and tides for your local area, this can be easily accessed on the Coastguard app. If in doubt, don't go out.

Things can change quickly on the water. You need to stay alert and aware.

The best policy is to save the drinks until after the trip. You should not be impaired while in charge of a boat and responsible for the lives of others.

Lastly, have fun out on the water and practice safe boating. With summer almost here we expect an influx of boats, people and other craft enjoying the water ways.

On behalf of the volunteer crew at Coastguard Maraetai - be safe, be prepared, look after each other and enjoy the summer ahead out on the amazing Haruaki Gulf.

Life Jackets

Consider the age of your life jacket, has it been stored in a clean dry environment, in good condition and less than 10 years old? Not wearing a lifejacket is the leading risk factor for boating fatalities, and two-thirds of those who die in recreational boating accidents each year could be saved if they wore a lifejacket.

Seaworthy

Have you had your craft checked over or serviced in the past 12 months? Now is the time to do so, don't get caught

Up your spring salad game with this prawn, pork and glass noodle recipe

Ingredients:

Dressing:

3t chilli oil (or 2 fresh red chillis, chopped finely plus 1 tsp chilli flakes)
1 medium garlic glove, crushed
3T fish sauce
1T brown sugar
3T fresh lime juice
2T peanut oil

Salad:

150g vermicelli noodles
150g prawns, peeled and deveined
150g minced pork (can substitute with chicken or beef mince)

2 cups fresh spinach leaves, chopped
optional: 1 bunch coriander

Method:
