Adventurer prepares for three-year pedal around the world

Paul Spencer is using Maraetai as a training ground while he prepares for his Guinness World Record attempt to pedal around the world in a custom built trimaran called the Pedal Beast.

A unique-looking trimaran based at the Maraetai Beach Boat Club is poised to embark on an ambitious endurance challenge - a fully human-powered circumnavigation of the globe.

British-born endurance athlete Paul Spencer is preparing to set off on an attempt to become the fastest person to pedal around the world, using nothing but his own power across land and ocean.

Starting in Denver, he will traverse continents and oceans using bicycle and pedal boat, eventually returning to Denver in what he hopes will be a three-year Guinness World Record time. The current record stands at 5 years 11 days.

Asked what sparked the idea, Paul says it seemed strange that people would say they had biked around the world, when in actual fact they had used planes or boats to cross the oceans. "I kind of stupidly said, if you really bike around the world, you'd have to bike across the ocean as well."

The thought percolated for some time, until Paul broached the idea with Auckland boat designer Craig Loomes.

"He thought an ocean pedal boat was a great idea," Paul says. Coincidentally, a boat that Paul had seen online - designed for a trans-Tasman rowing crossing which did not eventuate - came up for sale.

"Craig said I should buy it, and he would help design the conversion."

Public Transport for Clevedon

We've had a productive kick off conversation with Auckland Transport about public transport options for Clevedon and there's some progress to report. Here's where things stand:

- AT is currently pulling together updated data to confirm the scale and timing of growth here, and our community feedback on travel needs will feed directly in as well.
- Clevedon is on track to hit the 2,000-person threshold that makes us eligible for public transport consideration under the Regional Public Transport Plan.
- A connection to Papakura looks more viable in the near term than one to Beachlands, given proximity, stronger development around Ardmore, and likely higher usage, though we mentioned the Beachlands link for the ferry.
- Any Clevedon service would likely be classified as a "coverage service" meaning its purpose is ensuring access rather than carrying big numbers. AT has been upfront that it will need to compete with other improvements across the region for limited funding.

We'll keep you posted as AT works through both its 10-year plan and the upcoming 3-year investment case.

Village Design – Great Outcomes for All

Jane and Nicki continue to work hard on a range of design and development issues around the village, making sure the outcomes are good for landowners, land users and the community.

Currently their work includes:

- Undergrounding the 30kVA power line that supplies Waiheke.
- A proposed car park behind the District Centre on Chorus land with 14–18 spaces.
- The Village Heart Playground and Carpark project.
- Supporting Conmara's successful objection to council's requirement for concrete centre versus planting on the next new roundabout.

Mainstreet Masterplan

One of the key moves from the 2018 Village Design Framework was about the main street where we create a "heartline that's human-scale, walkable and retail-friendly". We're kicking off a project to bring together public agencies and private landowners to share their existing work programmes and plans, and then work out together what else we could do over the medium to long term. The goal is a main street we can all be proud of where it is the true heart of a great place to live, work and play.

Pop-up Youth Space

Our pop-up space is up and running and everyone is welcome. Made possible by the Franklin Local Board, a fantastic group of locals and the Association, it's a space we'll learn from as we create other new spaces around Clevedon. A big thank you to the Clevedon Scouts for helping make sure the parkour site is great to jump around. Special thanks to these locals for their generosity:

- + Leighton, Strata Earthworks
- + Craig, Clevedon Property Services
- + John, Hansen Timber
- + Callum, Clevedon Coast Oysters
- + Dean, Morton Timber
- + Derek Hill
- + Lisa, Acorns
- + Peter, P&I Pascoe

We'd love to hear what you think, so drop us a line at chair@clevedon.co.nz or click the QR code above.

New Wairoa Visitor Map

The next edition of the Association's Wairoa Valley visitor map has hit the streets with a fresh look, new size, and packed with content. So, pick one up from our local spots and spread the word to your visitors - or use it yourself.

Community Hub

The Association has put funding aside to get a Project Coordinator in place and get the District Centre Community Hub up and going during this year.

As a reminder, the Clevedon Library has closed pending the move into the District

Centre. The Auckland Council mobile library continues to visit Clevedon Hall on Wednesday afternoons (1.30–3.45pm) and Saturdays (2–3.30pm).

New Committee Members Wanted

"Ask not just what Clevedon can do for you, but what you can do for Clevedon." Everybody has a talent they can share. Like many community associations, we've updated our constitution to meet the Incorporated Societies Act 2022 and one change is new limited terms for committee members, which is just good governance practice. With a number of our long-serving committee members reaching or approaching these limits this year, we'll be looking for new people to step up. At a minimum we'd like people who can attend the ten Committee meetings and one planning session. If you love Clevedon, start thinking about it. We'll keep mentioning it, and by the AGM we'd love to see your name put forward. For more info, email Martin Grant at chair@clevedon.co.nz.

Clevedon School Pool

Following a necessary investment in 2024 for essential works, the pool fund is now in urgent need of replenishment. The Pool Committee has put together sponsorship tiers designed so that businesses of every size or residents can chip in. The risk of losing this facility is real, so please reach out to the Pool Committee if you'd like to be part of keeping it going.

Adventurer prepares for three-year pedal around the world

Paul's specially modified ocean-going carbon fibre trimaran called the 'Pedal Beast' is now a 500-kilogram vessel built to survive the open ocean.

"Apparently, even if you did manage to fill the whole thing with water, it would float just below the surface," Paul says. "It wouldn't sink."

Even so, the prospect of tackling the world's oceans is daunting. While Paul is no stranger to extreme endurance, having previously completed ultra-distance cycling races across Africa, America and Europe, this challenge takes things to a new level.

Every step is being taken to manage the risks. Paul's route has been meticulously planned around weather systems, safety, infrastructure and Guinness World Records requirements.

"Part of the Guinness World Record rules are that you have to hit opposite points on the globe," he explains. "You must cross the equator twice and you must touch opposite points on the globe."

Paul is also not allowed to use any motorised form of transport during the attempt - even using an uber or tuk tuk to pop out for dinner is off the cards.

"The Guinness World record is the fastest human powered circumnavigation," he says. "So I truly have to pedal all the way around the world."

The ocean legs will include crossings from San Francisco to Hawaii, Hawaii to the Philippines, and later from West Africa to South America. Between those stretches, Paul will ride the thousands of kilometres of land-based stretches by bicycle.

He plans to approach it like a day job, spending 5 days a week pedalling for about 8 hours each day. Paul believes the physical demands while pedalling in the boat may actually be easier than previous cycling expeditions.

"I actually think it's going to be easier from a physical point of view," he says. "If I pedal for 2 hours and I can't do anymore, I can quite easily take a nap or have a little break and then pedal for 2 hours."

Life at sea will be solitary, something Paul is surprisingly looking forward to. "I'm actually really excited about it," he says. "For the peacefulness of it."

There are other mental challenges however, especially as time, logistical and funding pressures mount. "Everything's good, and then you decide you want to go test the boat that day, and then there's way too much wind," he says. "It's really mentally tough."

Over recent weeks Paul has been testing the boat out of Maraetai. He says he has enjoyed fantastic support from both the Maraetai Beach Boat Club and the local boating community. "The boat club here... they've been fantastic," he says. "It's nice to have a home."

Conversations with curious locals have also provided unexpected encouragement. "Sometimes it can all seem a bit overwhelming. But when I tell somebody my story and see them get excited about it, it gives me more energy to do it," he says.

Paul plans to set off on a test run across the Tasman next month, and in the meantime is busy putting the final touches on the boat.

Paul is still seeking sponsors for his endeavour - donations can be made via his crowd funding page gofundme.com/f/pedalrthetaman

Well dressed crowds return to Clevedon for NZ Polo Open

A blustery morning gave way to sunshine last Sunday afternoon, in time for the crowds to enjoy the festivities at the 49th NZ Polo Open. The final game saw Standing Rock (Steve Urqhart, Pier Müller, Jimbo Fewster, JP Clarkin) emerge 16-13 victorious over Team Brinks (Matt van den Brink, Steve van den Brink, Will Harper, Juan Gris Zavaleta) in a closely fought match. Off-field, the Fashion at the Polo event drew a large number of entries, while the Horse vs Horsepower race was won by four wheels.

Clevedon Volunteer Fire Brigade records 2025 as busiest year ever

The Clevedon Volunteer Fire Brigade had its busiest year on record in 2025, responding to 189 incidents across the local community - a 32 per cent increase on call-outs in 2024.

The brigade says the rise in incidents highlights the changing nature of both the Clevedon area and the demands placed on emergency services.

The brigade operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and responds to a wide range of scenarios including vegetation fires, structural fires and motor vehicle accidents which made up the bulk of incidents attended last year. Crews were also called to medical events, severe weather, flooding and rescue situations.

With call-outs continuing to increase, the Clevedon Volunteer Fire Brigade encourages new members to consider joining. Anyone interested is welcome to visit the fire station on Tuesday evenings from 7pm to meet the team, learn more about the role and see the station facilities.

The brigade also acknowledges the support of firefighters' families, neighbouring fire brigades, NZ Police, Hate Hone St John, and the Auckland Westpac Rescue Helicopter, all of whom played an important role throughout 2025.

Residents are reminded that in any emergency they should call 111 immediately. More information about fire safety and emergency preparedness is available at Fire and Emergency New Zealand's website.

Funding secured to complete last piece of Eastern Busway

There was good news last week for East Auckland commuters who travel to the city. Funding has now been confirmed to complete the final section of the Eastern Busway through to Botany Town Centre.

Cost savings and additional funding of $101 million from NZ Transport Agency Waka Kotahi and Auckland Council mean buses will now be able to run the entire corridor on a dedicated route, separated from general traffic. This removes the need for an interim on-road bus route at the Botany end of the project.

The previously unfunded final stretch will run from Tī Rākau Drive through Guys Reserve Whakamaumahara, with construction set to begin in March.

The Eastern Busway is due to open in 2027 and is expected to carry up to 18,000 passengers a day by 2028, rising to 24,000 by 2048. It includes 7km of busway, five new stations and 12km of shared walking and cycling paths.

When complete, the full busway will integrate with the future Airport to Botany Busway.

For Pōhutukawa Coast residents who don't use the ferry to get to town, the completed busway will allow faster connection to Panmure's rail network. When the City Rail Link opens later this year, this will mean faster, more reliable travel across Auckland.

Map showing the Eastern Busway route. The area marked as number 6 has just received funding, allowing the entire project to be completed by 2028. Image / Easternbusway.nz.

Local real estate legacy now backed by Ray White Five AM Realty

Foster, Operations Manager, remain integral to the business. Together, the team is known for being customer-focused, highly experienced and deeply connected to the local community. Brie says their shared values, professionalism and commitment to clients made the transition a natural fit.

"Our team is incredibly important to me and to our clients. Dillon, Conor and Charlotte are trusted, experienced and genuinely care about delivering the best outcomes. They are local, they know the area inside and out, and our clients have absolute confidence in them."

Brie says the decision to join Five AM was influenced by how quickly the real estate market is evolving.

"This move ensures our clients continue to benefit from the best tools, systems and buyer reach available, while still working with the same people they know and trust."

For locals on the Pōhutukawa Coast, the things that matter most remain unchanged. The same familiar faces, deep local knowledge, long-standing relationships and commitment to the community remain at the heart of the business.

The move also allows Brie to remain hands-on. With more than 20 years' experience in the real estate industry, she has worked through every type of market — from strong growth cycles to challenging conditions.

"That experience is incredibly valuable, particularly in a market that continues to evolve. Being hands-on with clients and staying closely connected to the local market is what I enjoy most about real estate," says Brie.

"I believe that depth of experience positions me to deliver the best possible outcomes for clients, regardless of market conditions or individual circumstances. That's exactly why this move makes sense — it allows me to spend more time doing what I do best: listing, negotiating and selling property on the Coast."

Joining Five AM Realty and the wider Ray White network gives clients access to advanced marketing platforms, industry-leading training, and proven systems. With more than 120 salespeople across the Five AM group, properties are exposed to a significantly broader pool of active buyers.

For sellers, this means greater competition and stronger results. For buyers, it means increased access to local opportunities.

Additional benefits include enhanced technology, national and international marketing reach, and a larger referral network — all working behind the scenes to ensure homes on the Pōhutukawa Coast are presented to the widest possible audience.

"This move is about growth, not stepping back," says Brie. "We are still here, still local, and more focused than ever on helping Pōhutukawa Coast homeowners achieve the best possible outcomes."

About Brianne (Brie):

- Brie has worked within the real estate industry for 20 years, including 11 years with Ray White.
- Over the past 12 months she has made 65 sales, with the average number of days each house remains on the market a low 29.
- Over the past 3 years Brie has ranked within the top 20 agents across Ray White NZ.

For many boaties, the biggest barrier to getting out on the water isn't the destination, it's the time and effort involved in getting there. Pine Harbour Marina's Dry Stack facility is designed to remove that friction and make boating simple, reliable, and enjoyable.

Dry Stack storage offers a smart alternative to trailer boating. Vessels are securely stored at the marina and launched on request by our experienced team. Using Pine Harbour Marina's easy-to-use online booking system, owners can arrange a launch with just a click of a button. Book ahead or on the day, arrive at the marina, and your boat is ready to go. No towing, no ramp queues, and no delays—just boating made easy.

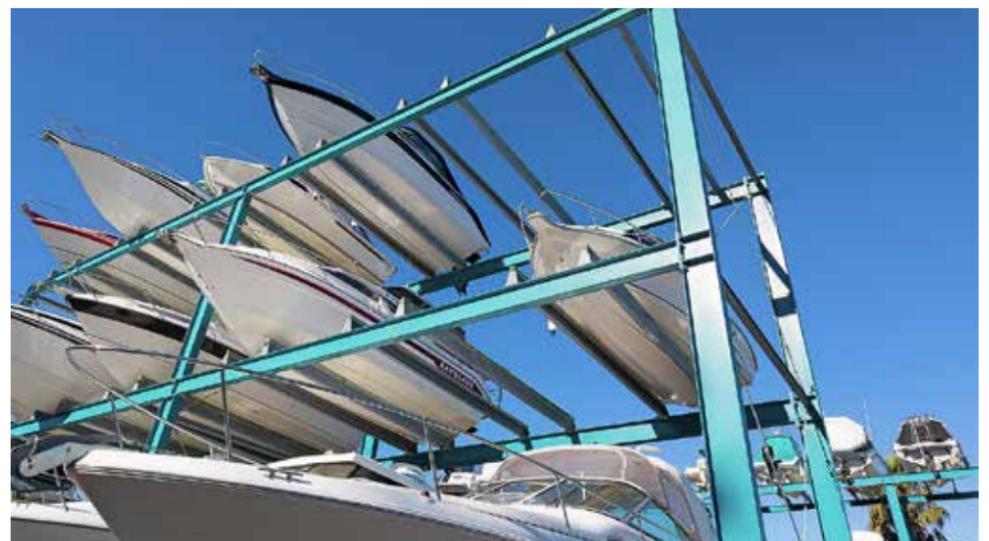

Located in Beachlands, Pine Harbour Marina is widely recognised as the gateway to the Hauraki Gulf. From this location, boaties enjoy direct access to some of Auckland's most sought-after destinations, including Waiheke Island, Rangitoto, Motuihe, and the wider gulf. It's an ideal base for fishing, cruising, or relaxed days on the water with family and friends.

The Dry Stack experience is further enhanced by the range of trusted marine tenants located on site. From servicing and maintenance to repairs and detailing, everything needed to keep vessels in top condition is available in one place, often without the owner needing to be present.

The Pine Harbour Dry Stack is supported by a friendly, professional team known for their efficiency and genuine customer care.

Long-time customer Peter Weston says, "The Dry Stack at Pine Harbour has completely changed the way we boat. The booking system is easy, the staff are outstanding, and knowing everything is taken care of makes the whole experience stress-free. We wouldn't go back to any other way of boating."

Pine Harbour Marina Dry Stack delivers a practical, time-saving solution for modern boaties who want to spend less time preparing and more time enjoying the Hauraki Gulf. And once your day on the water is done, you can sit back, relax, and enjoy the sunset at one of our marina bars and restaurants—a perfect way to finish off a hassle-free boating experience.

20 minute creamy bacon garlic and chicken pasta

Not sure what to make for dinner? Try this yummy, easy, cheesy dinner that will please the whole family. Serves 4.

Ingredients:

- 125g streaky bacon
- 2 chicken breasts diced
- 1-2 large cloves of garlic, crushed
- 300-400g of pasta
- ½ cup of cream (long life cream works well too)
- ¼ cup of grated parmesan cheese (or any other grated cheese)
- 1 cup of spinach (optional)
- Handful of rocket per person to top (also optional)
- Salt, pepper and chilli flakes to taste

Method:

1. Bring a large pot of water to boil. Add pasta and cook according to instructions on the packet.
2. While the pasta is cooking, cook bacon in a pan. Remove once cooked and set aside. Once slightly cooled, cut into small pieces.
3. Cook the diced chicken breast in the remaining bacon grease until almost fully cooked through. Add the crushed garlic into the pan and cook until the chicken is fully cooked and the garlic is fragrant.
4. Add the bacon back into the pan. Pour in the cream and ¼ cup of the pasta water, bring to a boil. Turn down the heat and let simmer until thickened. Add in the parmesan cheese, salt, pepper and chilli flakes if using, and stir until melted. If adding spinach add in now and cook until wilted.
5. Drain the pasta and add to the creamy chicken and bacon sauce.
6. Divide into bowls and serve up with a handful of rocket or spinach on top and enjoy!

Time to replace your irrigation field? Here's what to look for

- by HydroVac

For many homeowners with septic systems, the irrigation field (also called a drainage or soakage field) is very much "out of sight, out of mind" – and that's usually a good thing. But when it begins to fail, the signs can be messy, smelly and expensive. In worst-case scenarios, it can even damage your pump - $$$!

What does an irrigation field do?

After solids settle in your septic tank, the remaining liquid effluent flows out to the irrigation field. It is distributed through perforated pipes into the surrounding soil, where natural filtration processes remove harmful bacteria and nutrients before the treated water returns safely to the groundwater system.

Over time, irrigation fields can clog, compact or simply wear out. When that happens, wastewater can no longer disperse properly.

Common signs you may need a replacement

- 1. Slow drains and gurgling pipes: If sinks, showers and toilets are draining slowly – and your septic tank has already been pumped – the issue may lie in the irrigation field. Gurgling sounds can indicate wastewater isn't moving through the system as it should.
- 2. Wet or soggy patches on your lawn: Persistently damp ground above the irrigation area, especially during dry weather, is a clear warning sign. If the soil can't absorb the effluent, it may start surfacing.

- 3. Unpleasant odours outside: A healthy system shouldn't smell. If you notice sewage odours around your yard, particularly near the irrigation field, it's time to investigate.
- 4. The system is ageing or under stress: Irrigation fields last around seven years, depending on soil type, use and maintenance. Livestock compacting the ground or roots from nearby plants can all cause damage.
- 5. Alarms or warning lights: If your alarm keeps sounding or a red warning light activates when you flush the toilet or run appliances, act quickly. Your system is struggling to cope.

Don't wait for an emergency

Irrigation field problems rarely fix themselves. Acting early can prevent wastewater backing up into your home or causing major damage to your property or pump.

If you're noticing warning signs, seek professional advice. The experienced HydroVac team can assess your system and talk you through your options. Call 0800 493 768 – we're here to help.

CATCH OF THE WEEK PHOTO COMPETITION

Send us your fishing photos this summer and be in to win a $50 Top Catch voucher from GAS Maraetai each week!

The overall season winner will win a brand new rod and reel sponsored by GAS Maraetai.

11-year-old Hunter Clark spent three days kayak fishing at Stony Bay Coromandel, live-baiting for kingfish during a recent camping trip with his father close by on a jetski. On the final day, his persistence paid off when he finally landed a kingfish. Hunter refused any assistance and paddled the kayak nearly 3km back to shore on his own. The fish was later cut into steaks and shared around the campground.

TO ENTER, EMAIL YOUR PHOTO TO
include your full name, plus details about your catch (where the fish was caught, boat name, special gear used, what you did with the fish after it was caught etc).
